ISSUE #3
JULY 2022

The first results of the TOGETHER project are ready to be explored!

Everybody recognizes that intercultural dialogue is an important goal for European society! But why?

Because intercultural dialogue (ICD) supports sustainable development! Think about it! Through the open and respectful exchange of views between people and groups of different cultures, we can re-invent more creative ways to live and develop together in well-being. What we need is your involvement!

If you are a local actor or a policy maker; if you work in a municipality or a public authority, or you represent a local cultural organization, a library, a museum, or an NGO then this project is for you!

TOGETHER offers you a comprehensive set of 4 educational products, the so-called intellectual outputs (IOs) which help you to become an “ambassador” of intercultural dialogue. Here are the first two of them:

IO1: The Comparative Analysis Report.

It presents the current state of awareness and development of intercultural dialogue in the project's 5 partner countries—Cyprus, Georgia, Greece, Italy and Lebanon. It provides insights into how ICD is understood, shaped and reflected both in policy and in practice, identifies the needs of local actors involved in ICD, and outlines examples of best practice in each country.

IO2: The Ambassadors Curriculum

The Ambassadors Curriculum is the core output of the project and describes the educational process i.e. the series of actions and steps that the end user will follow in order to meet the educational scope of the project. In particular, IO2 is dedicated to fulfill the need of an innovative educational approach, which attempts to integrate in the local communities' context the cultural, social and developmental dimensions of intercultural dialogue. In doing so, it boosts the professional development of local actors and especially representatives of local communities and decision making organizations, empowering them to become future ambassadors, transferring in turn relative knowledge and experience. More specifically, the IO2 offers them attractive ICT-enabled educational material & new pedagogical approaches, emphasizing on the potentials of cross-cultural understanding for sustainable development; stimulating interest for the universal values of EU cultural heritage and highlighting the necessity of intercultural competences in the modern, globalized and pluralistic society of the 21st century.
